

Fire Communications Manager Application Guide

The selection and appointment procedures of the Queensland Fire Department (QFD) are guided by legislation and standards common to all government departments.

Merit is the basis for selection, and this is gauged by how well you satisfy the accountabilities and attributes of the role outlined in the 'Your key accountabilities' in the role description. In choosing the right person for this role we will consider what you have done previously – the knowledge, skills, abilities, aptitude and experience you've built, your potential for development, and your personal qualities.

The aim of this Application Guide is to assist you in understanding the requirements of the position and to allow you to assess your suitability to undertake the role and to assist you in preparing your application.

Role description

A role description is a document which describes the work to be performed and the requirements needed to perform the work (your key accountabilities) of individual positions. The role description should be read carefully as it describes the nature of the position as well as the qualifications, skills, knowledge and aptitude required to do the job. It will help you decide if the role is right for you.

Navigate to the employment tab and select current vacancies to view role descriptions for advertised positions via the QFD Career Opportunities webpage – <https://www.fire.qld.gov.au/careers-and-volunteering> for external candidates, and via your Nexus Careers tile for internal candidates.

Selection process

Applicants wishing to apply for a position at any location statewide should apply at this time. Successful applicants will be appointed to the advertised rank and allocated to specific role and work location.

As part of the selection process for Fire Communications Managers within QFD, applicants shortlisted by the selection panel may be invited to participate in an Assessment Centre and/or may be subjected to a variety of assessments to assess suitability against the inherent requirements of the role, prior to Interview.

An Assessment Centre is a process that uses different realistic exercises to measure an applicant's capacity against competencies relevant to the role. The exercises are designed to measure leadership style and work approach, and how this fits with the competencies required for success within the role. The exercises are not designed to measure overall experience, operational knowledge or intelligence.

More specific information will be provided to shortlisted applicants regarding this part of the selection process prior to attending. This may include an information forum which will allow shortlisted applicants to hear more about the Assessment Centre's and ask any questions regarding this process, where applicable.

How to apply

Stream:	CV/Resume	Suitability Statement	Training Record
Fire Communications	6-page A4 limit	Applicants are to respond to the requirements using a template, as provided	Not Required

To apply for this role please provide the following:

1. A current resume detailing your knowledge, skills and experience in relation to the information contained in this role description, including the names and contact details for a minimum of two and maximum of three referees. Your referees should have a thorough knowledge of your work performance and conduct. You may include your current, immediate supervisor; however, this is not mandatory. It is a requirement of the selection process that your resume not exceed the required pages in length.
2. A statement of suitability on the provided template; outlining your qualifications, experience, achievements and capabilities relating to the Capabilities required of the position, and as outlined by the role descriptor. It is a requirement of the selection process that your statement of suitability be submitted on the template provided, not exceed the available pages in length and Font to be no smaller than Arial 10.

Your statement should outline how your qualifications, experience, achievements and capabilities relate to the duties of the position. Give examples, including outcomes achieved, which demonstrate your suitability for the role. It is important to present your information in a logical, clear and concise way and provide the example that best demonstrates your skills, knowledge and abilities. As a guide, it is recommended that when providing examples, you identify the context, the content and the outcomes of each example.

QFD has adopted the Leadership Competencies for Queensland (LC4QLD) framework. You should read through the behavioural indicators for the relevant leadership 'stream' within the framework for the position that you are applying for. This stream can be found in the role description under the 'capability' heading along with the leadership competencies required to perform the role. For information about the LC4QLD framework please refer to <https://www.forgov.qld.gov.au/leadership-competencies-queensland>.

Whilst you are not required to specifically address each of the requirements of the relevant stream in the LC4QLD in your application, the selection panel will assess these holistically through your resume, your statement of suitability and during the interview phase of the process if you are successful in being short-listed for the role.

Failure to provide the requested information will result in your application not being considered.

Lodgment of applications

Applications are to be submitted online as outlined below.

External candidates

- Navigate to the employment tab and select current vacancies to view opportunities via the QFD Career Opportunities webpage at <https://www.fire.qld.gov.au/careers-and-volunteering>
- You need to create a 'Candidate Profile' account before submitting your online application.
- You can 'save' your application and submit later, allowing you to organise your attachments for submission at a later time, but by the closing date.

Internal candidates

- Via the Careers tile on Nexus.
- You need to ensure you have created/updated your 'Candidate Profile' account before submitting an online application.
- You can 'save' your application to submit later, allowing you to organise your attachments for submission at a later time, but by the closing date.

If you experience any technical difficulties when accessing the QFD Careers page, contact the Nexus Support Team on 1300 2 NEXUS (1300 2 63987) between 7.30am-3.30pm Monday to Friday. All calls relating to the status of your application once the job has closed, should be directed to the 'Contact officer' detailed within the role description.

Receipt of applications

Complete applications must be received no later than midnight on the specified vacancy closing date. Please allow enough time before the closing date to submit your application.

Late applications

Selection panel conveners have the discretion to consider late applications provided they are satisfied exceptional circumstances exist which prevented the applicant from submitting a completed application by the closing date. Applicants should be aware that short listing can occur at any stage from the time applications close and failure to supply full details in time may result in the application not being considered.

If you wish to submit a late application after the closing date, please discuss this with the contact officer. Alternatively, phone or email QFD Talent Acquisition team on 07 3635 1930 or talent.acquisition@fire.qld.gov.au who will provide you with recommendations to proceed further. If granted, you will be provided with a link to submit your application within a specified timeframe.

Changing your details

If your personal details change after you have submitted your application, you need to advise QFD. Please email the contact officer for the advertised job and ensure the job ad reference number and position title appears in the email subject line.

You can then update the relevant details in your candidate profile online via the relevant QFD Career Opportunities site/tile for future use.

Withdrawing an application

Applicants have the option to withdraw their online application at any time via the relevant QFD Career Opportunities site/tile. You will receive written notification that your application has been withdrawn. Applicants who withdraw an application online before the closing date will be able to resubmit an application for the same vacancy online prior to the closing date.
